Starring... Dr Suha Kersh and Dr Martin Galy, the husband-and-wife aesthetic experts who are behind the 23MD specialist cosmetic and medical clinics in Chelsea and Beirut

How would you describe your current state of mind? SK: Curious and grateful. MG: Cool. What trait do you appreciate in each other? SK: Kindness, loyalty and unconditional love. MG: Loyalty. Who rules your household? SK: Everyone... it's supposed to be a democracy isn't it? MG: Suha. Which of you has the last word? SK: It's always a negotiation. MG: Suha – happy wife, happy life.

What is your favourite occupation? SK: I love what I do. I enjoy meeting my patients and doing wonderful work together. Mostly I appreciate seeing them happy and confident. I also love being in the sun and near the sea with my family. MG: My job. Do you have any hidden talents? SK: I'm too overt for hidden talents, but I love to cook. I'll keep the hidden ones hidden. MG: I make great biscotti and curries; I also have very big dreams.

What is the most glamorous aspect of your job? SK: My patients. I meet such special people every day with the most amazing stories and personalities. It is such a privilege to work with them and make a difference in a small way. MG: The lovely people we meet everyday. What living person do you most admire? SK: My parents, who were pioneers in their own world and had to make so many sacrifices for us to be where we are today. MG: My dad. What is your greatest extravagance? SK:

Time off with my family. MG: My cufflinks. What ranks as the most glamorous event you've ever attended? SK: The 50th Arabian Beach Party in Central London. MG: My friends 40th birthday Venetian Ball at the V&A Museum in London. What are the most indispensable items in your handbag? SK: My glasses, and some chocolates. MG: My keys. What is the first thing you pack for a trip? SK: My swimsuits. MG: My cufflinks.

What is the quality you most appreciate in a person? SK: Loyalty, honesty and humour. MG: Loyalty. What is your most important work ethos? SK: Patient Advocacy – always maintain an honest and transparent relationship with my patients. MG: Recognising the importance of every member of our team, including patients. And the least? SK: Disloyalty and self-importance. MG: Dishonesty. What makes someone a life enhancer? SK: Kindness support and vision. MG: Loyalty.

What are your own go-to aesthetic treatments? SK: Hydrafirm and Skinboosters for skin health and tightness. Fillers for a lift and contouring. MG: CoolSculpt for my neck — it made my neck size smaller and helped me stopped snoring.

What is the most important piece of advice you like to give? SK: Rise above, always respond kindly, be visionary, push your boundaries. MG: Determination and resolve. What is the best advice you've ever received? SK: Slow down. MG: Determination and resolve.

Are you typical of your star signs? SK: I am a cusp Libra and Scorpio so I could be the best or worst of both. MG: IDK. What historical figure would you most like to have met? SK: Steve Jobs. MG: Margaret Thatcher – I'd like to ask her about her ideas on Game Theory.

Name your five bucket-list places to visit? SK: River boating on the Amazon, Great-grandmotherhood... and anywhere with a beach. MG: Antarctica, the Moon. Do you collect anything? SK: There is only room for one collector in the house and that's Martin – he is the ultimate shopper and collector. MG: Cufflinks and hotel soaps. Name your greatest achievement? SK: Our 23 years of marriage and our three amazing children. I am also very proud of our fourth baby, 23MD. It's been such a wonderful journey. MG: My family. In another life, what would you come back as? SK: I would leave that to the universe to decide. MG: A dinosaur.

What's new for 2020? SK & MG: 23MD Beirut – a long time in the making but look out for our fully talented Lebanese team.
