

It is no exaggeration to say that Prophil® is the biggest innovation in the skin category of the last decade – it has been truly game-changing expertise of the NAHYCO® technology, and seek it as a body treatment now too. All the natural under-skin nourishing and bio-regenerative qualities that earned global recognition for restoring peachiness to parched faces are available for the body too. The first and only HA injectable treatment specifically formulated with anti-ageing properties to address body skin laxity, Prophil® Body has proven clinical efficacy.

Having established a new category of skin injectables, the beauty of this game-changing treatment is in the simplicity of being able to offer practitioners and patients the confidence and safety of one superior grade of ultra-pure HA. This is delivered in one protocol with the one and only Prophil®.

'The bio-remodelling capacity of Prophil® to stimulate the skin cells is unique and occupies a category of its own,' says Julie Scott, owner and clinical director of Facial Aesthetics. 'The results patients achieve show that Prophil® is exceptional. We find patients return again and again to add Prophil® to additional treatment areas once they discover how wonderful their skin looks and feels. It's an investment in your

INSIDE STORY
Prophil® promotes better skin from within skin – a unique treatment offering for all my patients in their 30s, 40s, 50s and beyond.'

'Prophil® is a core staple in our non-surgical portfolio as it is a transformational skin treatment,' agrees Dr Suha Kersh. 'It improves skin laxity, increases cell turnover and strengthens from within, all while maintaining the wellness of skin and optimising hydration and collagen. We often combine it as an essential skin prep treatment before energy-based aesthetic devices or integrated within a treatment programme, as it really does support and optimise final results.'

Dr Kersh has witnessed these results on all kinds of patient. 'It's ideal as a first port of call for men as well as women,' she says. 'Our male patients are often high-profile public figures who are very visible and do not want to look like they have had treatments. Prophil® offers natural results and skin confidence.'

The science of Prophil®

PURE AND SIMPLE

With the highest available concentration of ultra-pure hyaluronic acid, Prophil® is the pioneer of bio-remodelling. It's the first product developed with NAHYCO® technology, a unique and innovative thermal stabilisation production process, 100 per cent free from chemical stabilising agents, patented by IBSA Derma.

LAYERS OF MEANING

It's anti-ageing on multiple levels, promising long-lasting bio-stimulation to counteract signs of dullness and poor skin quality and to stimulate collagen and elastin. It's proven to be effective at treating areas prone to laxity, including the face, neck, décolletage, hands, arms and abdomen.

To find an authorised Prophil® practitioner near you, visit prophil.co.uk/prophil-clinic-search